International collaborations and registries

Multiple nations have shared their research, experiences and brain power to advance the care of musculo-skeletal patients around the globe. World leaders are invited to present their work.

Thriving when the stakes are high

- Early warning systems for patient decline.
- Prevent, detect & manage cardiac events, stroke, pneumonia, and sepsis.
- Build resilience for high stress work environments.

Leading practices and research across the continuum. From palliative to geriatrics.

What has your team done to improve the patient experience, safety, recovery and/or make health care more affordable?

Palliative care in orthopaedic patients

How can we provide the highest standard of compassionate care to those we serve?

Emerging technologies, techniques, medications and devices that change the world of patient care.

What's new in your work setting and how has it impacted patients and staff?
Leading science in spine care: The future is now.
